NIXON PROPHESIES COOLING OFF

...Says 'Price Rises Are Going To Be Slowing Down'

Washington (AP) — President Nixon told the nation Friday that "we are on the road to recovery from the disease of runaway prices." But he said some painful adjustments lie ahead.

In his first major address on economic problems, prepared for nationwide radio broadcast, Nixon flatly told Americans: "You can make your plans on the basis that price rises are going to be slowing down."

The President announced he will send letters this weekend to a cross section of business and labor leaders urging that they take account of the prophesied cooling-off of inflation in making wage, price and investment decisions.

Restraint Urged

While insisting he would tell no one how to set wages or prices, Nixon called on labor to "base their wage demands on the new prospect of a return toward price stability." And he said businessmen should base their investment and price decisions "on that new economic climate, keeping in mind that it is in their private interest to be realistic in their planning and to help build a strong economy."

Nixon also voiced an appeal to citizens in general.

"I call upon all Americans to bear the burden of restraint in their personal credit and purchasing decisions, so as to reduce the pressures that help drive prices out of sight."

Asserting that the administration has asked the country to take "bitter medicine," he went on: "I can report to you that the medicine has begun to work. There will be no overnight cure, but we are on the road to recovery from the disease of runaway prices."

Rise Slowing Down

Declaring that he wanted to be careful lest he mislead someone, Nixon cautioned: "Prices are still going up, and may continue to do so for a while — a five-year momentum is not easy to stop. But now prices are no longer increasing faster and faster . . ."

Then, in more somber tones, he said the anti-inflation battle inevitably will temporarily cut into the sales of some businesses and curb the earnings of some workers.

"As we gently, but firmly, apply the brakes," he said, "we are going to experience some 'slowing pains.' Like growing pains, these are a healthy development — but painful nevertheless."

Compassion Promised

Nixon promised the administration would look upon anticipated adjustments with compassion and keep a close watch on developments. Declaring that some argue a high unemployment rate cannot be avoided, Nixon said:

"I do not agree. In our leveling-off process, we intend to do everything we can to resist increases in unemployment, to help train and place workers in new jobs, and to cushion the effects of readjustment."

Putting most of the blame for current inflation on past government policies that led to heavy federal spending, Nixon said his administration will persevere in putting a lid on the budget and, if Congress agrees, continuing the anti-inflationary income tax surcharge at a five per cent rate until June 30.

Path Not Popular

"Holding down government spending and holding up the tax rate, and making it harder for people to get credit, is not the kind of policy that makes friends for people in politics," he said.

He said such measures are necessary and he appealed anew to Congress to extend the surtax and avoid the temptation to turn tax reform legislation into a budget-busting tax cut.

The President also called on citizens to urge that state and local governments "cooperate in postponing spending that can appropriately be delayed."

TRAWLER INTRUDED . . .

Viet Navy Hits Soviet Spy Ship

Saigon (AP) — South Vietnamese patrol boats fired on and hit Friday a Soviet spy ship which ignored challenges and intruded into Vietnamese territorial waters off Da Nang, government sources said.

They said smoke was seen rising from the Russian intelligence trawler after it had been shot at by the patrol boat. The trawler took evasive action and escaped into the open sea.

Report Confirmed

The report was confirmed by the U.S. 3rd Marine Amphibious Force headquartered at Da Nang. The trawler headed out to sea and is still under observation by U.S. Navy ships and Air Force planes.

South Vietnamese sources said a coastal patrol boat signaled the Russian ship to identify itself and it refused.

The Vietnamese ship then fired a warning shot. The trawler still refused to stop and the patrol boat opened fire.

The incident was the first of the war involving a Soviet ship in South Vietnamese coastal waters, and recalls North Korea's seizure of the American spy ship Pueblo near Wonsan Harbor in January 1968.

A South Vietnamese government communiqué said that Friday afternoon a "foreign boat, probably a reconnaissance craft, intruded into territorial waters off Da Nang. The Vietnamese navy was ordered to chase the boat out of territorial waters. No more details are available."

South Vietnam claims territorial jurisdiction out to a 12-mile limit.

Off Da Nang

According to U.S. Navy officers, the incident occurred northeast of Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city.

The spy ship was first spotted Thursday morning approaching the South Vietnamese coast. Both U.S. and South Vietnamese ships identified the vessel as a Russian intelligence trawler.

"Information from the U.S. Navy stated that the trawler came from the vicinity of Yankee Station off North Vietnam," one officer said.

The trawler was kept under surveillance and at 1:50 p.m. Friday "South Vietnamese navy elements fired on the Russian trawler in response to its movement into Vietnamese national waters."

Reischauer Urges 'Measured' Withdrawal

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Dr. Edwin O. Reischauer Friday called for a measured U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam which would take American troops out of combat within a year and completely out of the country within two years.

That is the only reasonable means to end U.S. involvement in the war, the former U.S. ambassador to Japan insisted.

A negotiated settlement would be "more honorable and least painful," Reischauer noted. "The only trouble is that it's impossible to achieve."

Faint hopes of eventual victory remain "a will of the wisp," Reischauer told a University of Nebraska audience.

Spastic Response

And precipitate withdrawal would result in such "a spastic response" that it could disrupt delicate international relationships, trigger "a real first class McCarthyist (1950s vintage) reaction" at home and possibly lead the world toward "absolute disaster," he said.

Reischauer, a nephew of the late Dean Charles Henry Oldfather, was in Lincoln to help dedicate the newly constructed Oldfather Hall on the downtown campus. (See Picture on Page 6.)

A professor at Harvard University, Reischauer was ambassador to Japan from 1961 to 1966.

"I would hope that President Nixon would announce a kind of schedule for U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam," Reischauer said.

Time To Reform

A two-year "grace period" would give Saigon time to reform its government and "force them to attempt to get a negotiated settlement," he pointed out.

But, Reischauer said, he doubts that Nixon will follow such a course.

"I would predict that he will accelerate the rate of withdrawal," he said, thereby communicating to the world a final decision to leave Vietnam and "setting up a momentum that can't be stopped."

Once withdrawal reaches about the halfway point, "the military will change sides . . . and say our position is not sound, get us out," he suggested.

War 'Vast Mistake'

The war itself was "a vast mistake," Reischauer said, but the problem is how to end it.

Using our nuclear power would only risk nuclear war and invading North Vietnam would be "an absolute folly" which could bring Chinese troops into the battle, he said.

Even if we somehow destroyed North Vietnam, the U.S. would then be plagued with continuing guerrilla wars in both the North and South Reischauer said.

As for a negotiated settlement, "we can offer much too little for what Hanoi would accept," he pointed out.

Negotiation 'Impossible'

Saigon would not agree to a coalition government "as long as we're there," he said. "And Hanoi will not accept elections."

A negotiated settlement is impossible, "and this is a crucial time for the President to realize it," Reischauer said. "It is time for us to bite the bullet and recognize that the only way out is by our moving out."

Reischauer said he participated in Vietnamese Moratorium activities last Wednesday "to help bring pressure on our government (because) it is up to us to express ourselves very clearly on this."

The former ambassador spoke at four Moratorium events that day — his 59th birthday.

Seoul, Korea — A constitutional amendment that would allow President Chung Hee Park to seek a third consecutive term as Korea's leader swept to a resounding victory. There were no violent incidents reported, but the opposition parties have charged the government with vote rigging and are demanding recounts in a number of polling stations.

Nixon Adviser, Burns, To Be Chief Of Banking

Washington (P) — President Nixon said Friday he will nominate scholarly, pipe-smoking Arthur F. Burns, his Cabinet-rank economic adviser, to succeed William McChesney Martin Jr. as chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

Martin, 62, must step down after 18 years at the helm of the nation's primary credit-controlling agency when his term ends Jan. 31. Under the law, a board member can serve only one full, 14-year term.

Nixon's decision to name Burns, a 65-year-old Austrian native and acknowledged expert on the business cycle, was not surprising in view of the President's determination to keep tight economic restraint in effect until inflation is defeated.

Independent Agency

The 'Fed,' a conscientiously independent agency responsible for setting the policies that determine how much money will be available for loans, thus appears likely to carry on the tight policies set under Martin.

"Let us have sound policy and sound regulation," Burns said in Hot Springs, Va., where he was attending a meeting of the Business Council when Nixon's announcement was made. Sound money, particularly a sound dollar, has been the credo of Martin's tenure.

Formally, Nixon will nominate Burns to a 14-year term as one of seven governors of the Federal Reserve System, which oversees the nation's banks. Then after Senate confirmation he will designate Burns chairman for a four-year term.

Appointed By Truman

Martin was named to a partial term by President Harry S. Truman, then given a full 14 years by Dwight D. Eisenhower. Every president since Truman has named him chairman, although there have at times been doubts until the past minute, particularly under John F. Kennedy in 1963.

The chairman's job pays $42,500.

The administration considers an orderly success is crucial now because of its battle against inflation, which it says is making progress. Although a president cannot dictate the board's decisions, Martin and his six colleagues have agreed with Nixon that stringent restraints are necessary.

Burns served as chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers during much of the Eisenhower administration.

Known For Thrift

He has a reputation for thrift and frequently takes the conservative view in economic disagreements. Working primarily as a budget-cutter and cost-watcher during a time when those talents are in great demand, he has not emerged as one of the best-loved men in the White House.

But he is respected, both for ability and his access to the President.

Said one official, "Arthur Burns is the one man at the White House who can command complete silence and attention in a room just by clearing his throat to speak."

Cambridge, England (P) — The lavatory in the new bar at Trinity College near the Great Court quarters of Prince Charles has been supplied with a large blackboard, chalk and eraser with hopes of diverting graffiti artists from the walls.

Roman Catholic Liberals 'Kill' First Part Of Vatican Agenda

Vatican City (UPI) — Roman Catholic liberals at the World Synod of Bishops succeeded Friday in killing the first part of a Vatican-written agenda which they complained put too much stress on the power of the Pope and not enough on bishops' powers.

India's Valerian Cardinal Gracias, presiding officer for the day, announced the synod would vote instead next week on another document which the liberals feel is more balanced.

The Rev. Mark Reuver, a Vatican briefing officer, said Cardinal Gracias' announcement meant that the first part of the Vatican agenda, dealing with doctrinal aspects of authority in the church, was dead.

There was no announcement on who had made the decision to shelve the Vatican statement — whether it was Pope Paul VI or the three presidents of the synod.

After disposing of this question, the synod took up the second part of the Vatican agenda which deals with such controversial questions as whether the Pope should consult bishops before making decisions on vital questions like birth control.

An introductory report by Francois Cardinal Marty of Paris acknowledged the Pope's right to act without consulting bishops but gave more stress to the desirability that he consult bishops than was contained in the Vatican agenda.

Father Reuver said he had the impression the synod participants were "very much concerned" over dissension service to bishops as well as to the Pope and for leaving such matters as priestly celibacy and marriage cases to local churches instead of having them decided only at the Vatican.

The second part of the agenda also deals with liberal requests for more personal contact between bishops and the Pope, for making the Roman Curia an arm of the liberals' feel is more balanced.

When Cardinal Martini mentioned in his report the wish of many bishops to have the Pope present at all synod sessions, there was loud applause. Pope Paul, who was present, smiled and said: "Here I am."

Soviet Union Brings Down Second Craft

Moscow (P) — Only one ship in the Soviet space troika remained in space Friday after the Soyuz 7 and its three-man crew were brought down safely after a five-day flight.

Soyuz 8 and its two cosmonauts are expected to land Saturday closing out the week-long Soviet space venture.

It failed to produce the first space platform after apparent but unexplained difficulties. But the Soviet Union at least gained valuable space experience and proved that it can carry out troika flights with the Soyuz.

Never before had three spaceships and seven men been in orbit at the same time.

Soyuz 7, carrying Anatoly Filipchenko, Vladislav Volkov and Viktor Gorbatko, landed Friday morning just 15 miles from where Soyuz 6 was brought down Thursday.

Although the French veto has been lifted since the resignation of President de Gaulle, the Pompidou-Schuman position indicates a long tough road ahead before France will consent to enlargement.

It further shows that France intends to exact a stiff price for consent. Despite mounting farm surpluses, French agriculture would continue to be partially subsidized by the EEC states and even by new members.

Despite the apparent hard French line, Dutch Foreign Minister Joseph M.A.H. Luns, who has actively sought British membership for years, said he reacted with "a certain moderate opinion."

The commission, the EEC's executive authority, was given a mandate by the council Friday to open up trade negotiations with Israel, leading towards a preferential agreement involving cuts of 45% in tariffs on Israeli industrial exports to the EEC and cuts of 40% on some Israeli agricultural exports. France had long blocked such a mandate, arguing that it was unfair to negotiate with Israel without also inviting Arab countries into similar arrangements.

Under a compromise the commission got approval to begin exploratory talks with Egypt and Lebanon while negotiating what would be a five-year trade agreement with Israel.

The council also decided to empower the commission to negotiate a six-year preferential agreement with Spain. Italy, whose products are competitive, had long sought to delay such an accord.

Lakeside (UPI) — E. Victor Eldred, a Garden County rancher, was hospitalized with facial cuts and bruises Friday after the helicopter he was flying crashed on his ranch near here.

Eldred, 61, was hospitalized in satisfactory condition at Alliance. His ranch is located 25 miles southeast of Alliance.

Eldred had been rounding up cattle on the ranch when he heard his helicopter's engine sputtering at 100 feet. He said he started to land when the craft began spinning and then crashed.

The Federal Aviation Administration sent an investigator to the scene from its Lincoln office.

Eldred was able to walk away from the crash, which occurred at about 9 a.m. He was alone in the helicopter.

A spokesman at the 30,000 acre ranch said a foreman in another helicopter witnessed the accident and flew Eldred to the hospital in Alliance.

"He has been active since youth in the United Methodist Church and has performed nearly every task and held nearly every office on the local and district level, and in many areas on the conference level," Dr. Rogers said.

In his work at Rolla, he is teaching an experimental introductory course for freshman physics majors, oversees graduate research and conducts a current topics in physics lecture series financed by a National Science Foundation grant.

Human Race's Potential Said Enormous

dignity, spiritual health, and individuality.

Up to this point, Dr. Dunning said the human animal has been an aggressive, hard-fighting animal who has been almost too successful.

"We stand in danger of over-running and overwhelming our world because we have been so successful in learning to use the natural world around us.

"These advances in the use of natural resources, breaking the genetic code, development of atomic and nuclear energy, put us in the grave danger of being stacked too deep on this planet," he said.

"And earth is the only living and livable place we have. The moon and Mars offer little hope. And planet Venus is even worse," he commented in looking at the possibility of colonizing space.

"If we can control our population — and we have the techniques to do that — then I can promise that scientists will discover the secrets of nature, leading to the secrets of man himself," he said.

Cardinal, Blue Key Members Told

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Wife's Art Activities Embarrass Husband

By ROBERT PETERSON

Q. — "My wife, 67, likes to sell — last year it was cosmetics and the year before jewelry. Now she's taken up oil painting and considers herself the local Grandma Moses. It wouldn't be so bad if she had talent but she doesn't. Her paintings are lousy although she thinks they're great and well worth the $25 per picture she charges. She's always inviting folks over for coffee — mostly names she gets out of the phone book — and shows off her paintings. When she turns on the salesmanship and high pressure I get so embarrassed I want to crawl under the sofa. We don't particularly need the money — why can't she forget all these schemes and just enjoy retirement?"

A. — People who have drive, ideas, and talent can't sit still — they've got to be active and productive. I think you're being overly sensitive about your wife's art career. Folks don't have to accept her invitations and they don't have to buy if they don't want to. Most good salesmanship involves a little pressure. Possibly the guests think more highly of your wife's artistic talent than you do, and it's likely many genuinely appreciate the refreshments, social contact, and opportunity to meet a real, live artist in person.

Q. — "What can you do about a procrastinator? My husband, 66, retired last year and said he'd have plenty of time for any chores I wanted him to do. There are a million things around this 86-year-old house that need doing — roof repairing, fixing screens, cleaning out the cellar, etc. When I ask him to do something he says okay, but then goes and lies in the hammock or takes a stroll downtown and a month later the job is still undone. When I prod him he says, 'Don't rush me.' He might as well be back on the assembly line at the transmission factory for all the good he is to me at home."

A. — Along with lots of retired men, he probably has good intentions but conflicting series. He wants to do what should be done, but has an even keener interest in relaxing, enjoying himself, and doing what comes naturally. To get action, set some deadlines. Give him a specific job and tell him if it's not done by a week from Wednesday you'll hire someone to do it. Deadlines that threaten to invade the pocketbook often jolt procrastinators into action.

Q. — "Dad, 81, has never had a hobby since retiring to Clearwater, Fla., eight years ago. But a widow next door gave him her late husband's 12-foot boat with an outboard motor. Dad became interested right away and now goes out in the Gulf fishing daily. But we worry because he's had fainting spells — he blacked out twice last spring at the supermarket. Do you think he should be going out in this boat?"

A. — He should be going out, but not alone. Try to line up some healthy youngster or oldster who, for a small fee, will accompany him each time. It's great when elders find a hobby which hooks their interest and adds real zest to their years.

Industry's Experience Said Broader Example

Virgil E. Boyd, president of Chrysler Corp., said Friday that private industry can contribute to "sound understanding" between America and underdeveloped nations.

Boyd, a 33rd degree Scottish Rite Mason and former Nebraskan, addressed the 134th reunion banquet of the Scottish Rite in Lincoln.

Industry is learning valuable lessons in the recruiting and training of disadvantaged persons to become productive workers, he said. "We're helping them to help themselves."

The progress in such training programs is creating

The new 32nd degree Masons shared honors at the banquet with the grand master of Nebraska Masons, Hugh W. Eisenhart of Cambridge, and twenty 50-year members of the temple.

The master of ceremonies was Donald A. Keys, 32nd degree Mason and KCCH.

Virgil E. Boyd, president of Chrysler Corp. and a 33rd degree Mason, was the main speaker.

The new 32nd degree Masons elected Harold C. Wurdeaman as their president.

NU'S OLDFATHER HALL DEDICATED

The tallest classroom-office building on the University of Nebraska Lincoln campus, 12-story Oldfather Hall, was dedicated Friday. The ceremonies were attended by former ambassador to Japan and East Asian expert Edwin Reischauer, nephew of the late Arts and Sciences Dean Charles Henry Oldfather, for whom the building was named. Standing by a photograph of Oldfather was Reischauer, from left, and two of Oldfather's children, Rebecca and Prof. Charles Oldfather of the University of Kansas Law College.

Judge Echoes Plea For 'Decency'

Philip B. Gilliam, judge of the Denver, Colo., juvenile court, echoed his plea of seven years ago to "make decency popular again" in an address to Nebraska social workers here.

While Gilliam had declared here in 1962 that "everybody's grabbing today," the juvenile judge Friday protested the frequent use of violence in dealing with problems of people as he spoke to the two-

Beatrice Firm Reveals Dividend

Beatrice (P) — Two executive appointments, two staff promotions and a 25-cent per share dividend were announced Friday by the board of directors of Store Kraft Manufacturing Co. of Beatrice.

The dividend brings to 61 cents per share on the present number of shares outstanding the dividends paid in 1969, according to Company President Merle Jones.

Jones said the company is actively seeking 35 more production employees, which would increase the work force by 25%. Orders for manufacture in the first quarter of 1970 are about double those scheduled in the first quarter of this year, he said.

Everett Knoche was elected president for marketing and was appointed head of the sales division, and Ronald A. Overbeck was appointed assistant treasurer.

Virgil D. Brackhahn is being transferred from Beatrice to Mission, Kan., to become sales engineer for the Kansas-Missouri area.

Richard D. Wrightsman will transfer from Beatrice to Charlotte, N.C., to become a sales assistant for two eastern territories.

Scottsbluff (P) — Scotts Bluff County Sheriff James Richard Smith will resign Oct. 31 to operate a drive-in business in Iowa, it was announced Friday.

William Nichol, chairman of the county board, said Smith has purchased a drive-in business at Emmetsburg, Iowa, but didn't say what the business is.

During county budget hearings last summer, Smith told the commissioners that his department needed more money and more deputies to operate effectively.

He said then he would resign if his requests weren't granted.

Smith was appointed sheriff in June of 1968.

State Construction Sharply Cut Back

By The Associated Press

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann responded Friday to a presidential request for capital construction cutbacks by reporting that more than 96% of Nebraska's "requested" capital construction will be deferred until next spring or later.

President Nixon had asked the states to combat inflation by curtailing and deferring construction projects.

Tiemann said his plan for Nebraska postpones until the next biennium—starting July 1, 1971—53.8% of an $87.1 million total which the governor identified variously as "requested" or "required" capital construction.

Based On Requests

Analysis indicated the $87.1 million total to be based on capital construction requests submitted by agencies and departments of government for the current biennium, rather than the expenditures actually authorized.

Capital construction appropriations by the Legislature fell far short of the $87.1 million figure, and indications were that all or most of the $46.8 million of capital construction listed as deferred to the next biennium had not been funded by the Legislature anyway.

Lengthiest deferral of projects actually authorized for the current biennium would be until June of next year, eight months from now, the analysis indicated.

Capitol observers suggested some of these projects could not immediately be launched in any event, further minimizing any disruption of the spending timetable inherent in the governor's plan.

No Highway Delay
Tiemann, in a letter to President Nixon accompanying a copy of his plan to defer capital construction, said he planned no delay in highway construction in Nebraska.

"I deem it unwise and unnecessary to curtail or delay Nebraska's highway program," Tiemann wrote.

Tiemann said Nebraska has $87.1 million worth of capital construction to be done.

3.9% Proceeding

His plan calls for permitting only 3.9% to proceed between now and next spring.

"These projects consist of those of an emergency nature and ones which are already in progress," Tiemann said.

"Work will not be started on an additional 4.2% until the spring of 1970 and 38.1% will not be started until after June 1, 1970; 53.8% have been postponed until after the end of the present biennium, June 30, 1971," Tiemann said.

Regarding Nebraska's highway program, Tiemann said he had issued instructions to the State Department of Roads to request federal funding for the third and fourth quarters.

By department or agency, these are the expenditures which Tiemann said will be delayed until next spring or later:

Institutions $333,300; welfare $25,000; military $7,000; Game Commission $1 million; Building Commission $25,450; Educational Television Commission $600,000; state colleges $283,321; University of Nebraska $1,225,000; State Fair Board $120,000.

Amounts by department to be deferred until next June include institutions $3,355,000; welfare $50,000; military $10,000; Game Commission $4 million; Building Commission $75,000; ETV Commission $2.5 million; state colleges $2,870,000; University of Nebraska $6,075,000; new office building $14,250,000.

Banner County's Assessor, Downer, Heads State Group

Omaha — Banner County Assessor Bob Downer was elected president Friday of the Nebraska County Assessors Association at its annual meeting here.

Other new officers are Allan Parker, Harlan County, first vice president; Ray Hoy, Saunders, second vice president, and Mrs. Joyce Nixon, Dakota, secretary-treasurer.

The assessors passed a resolution requesting an attorney general's opinion on the constitutionality of LB1250, a 1969 law pegging state taxes on agricultural income-producing machinery and equipment to the values used by the taxpayer for federal income tax purposes.

An unofficial opinion obtained by a state senator from the Attorney General's office and an opinion from the Lancaster County attorney's office both called the law unconstitutional.

State Tax Commissioner Murrell McNeil told the assessors Friday that State Sen. Terry Carpenter had visited with him regarding raising statutory minimum salaries for assessors.

He said Carpenter told him he plans to attempt again in the 1971 legislative session to get pay increases for the county assessors.

State Finds Jobs For 5,763 People During September

The Nebraska Division of Employment said Friday it placed 5,763 persons in jobs during September.

The figure was down 10% from the same month in 1968, due largely to a 26% decline in agricultural hirings.

New applications with the agency totaled 4,764, down 8% from last September.

The active file of persons registered with the division was down 12% from a year ago to 7,972. Unfilled job openings also were down 5%.

Initial claims for unemployment insurance rose 22% from the corresponding month in 1968, but continued claims fell 15%.

Benefits paid totaled $286,772, compared with $311,290 last year.

Law Enforcement Priorities Are Under Study

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The Governor's Crime Commission Friday took under consideration a proposed broadening of state priorities on "action programs" eligible for federal "safe streets" funds.

Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer, commission chairman, indicated commission action on the proposed list would be taken at the November meeting.

Executive Director Walt Weaver told commission members the proposed list of 15 program areas would cover "almost every conceivable area" of law enforcement and criminal justice need in Nebraska.

Policy Needed

He said a policy on programs with priorities must be established before the commission can allocate some $625,000 in "action money" anticipated to be received by Dec. 31 for fiscal 1970.

Applications for 1969 fiscal funds were allocated to Nebraska law enforcement agencies for "communications and law enforcement training," but Weaver urged priorities be expanded.

Included in the tentative list by Weaver were recruitment and training of law enforcement personnel, juvenile delinquency control and prevention, criminal code revision, innovative training techniques, crime statistics reporting, improved communications networks, criminal information system, community relations, prosecution and court activities, organized crime control and corrections and parole improvements.

Weaver said the proposed system would be compatible with the Federal Bureau of Investigation's system, thus requiring state law enforcement agencies to report only to the state system.

"The state system can be computerized," he said, "and a print-out copy then forwarded to the FBI."

In other action, the commission:

Approved the request of the State Patrol for highway safety funds, $8,000 earmarked for instructor training, and $39,600 for specialized traffic enforcement training.

Approved a $2,727 grant to the tax commissioner's office for special training of tax enforcement fieldmen.

Deferred action on a proposed study for a model correctional program at the misdemeanor level, providing regional correctional centers for offenders now sentenced to county jails.

Evening Wedding

Chrysanthemums in autumn tones of gold and bronze appointed the altar of Trinity United Church of Christ on Friday evening, Oct. 17, for the wedding of Miss Laura Susan King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex E. King, and Dennis James Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Miller. The lines of the candlelight service were read at 7 o'clock by the Rev. Milan Hamilton, and Mrs. Herbert C. Schneider, organist, played the wedding music.

Mrs. William Berryman of Kansas City, Mo., sister of the bridegroom, as the honor attendant, and the bridesmaids, Miss Lynne Andrews and Miss Vickie Nelson, wore slim, Empire frocks of crepe in the peacock blue shade and carried colonial arrangements of white chrysanthemums.

Serving Mr. Miller as best man was William Berryman of Kansas City, Mo., and the ushers were the bride's brother, Steven King, and Douglas Miller, brother of the bridegroom. Steven Wilken and Thomas Tambling were the groomsman.

For her wedding, the bride chose her mother's wedding gown of traditional white satin. Below the sculptured bodice, which was designed with long sleeves and a portrait neckline framed by a standing collar, the skirt of released fullness continued into a chapel train. Her illusion veil was held by a cluster of jeweled petals, and she carried a cascade of white roses.

Mr. Miller, who is completing training with the National Guard, and his bride will make their home in Lincoln.

It's Travel Time For Suburbia

Were we to take the weather as an indicator, we would immediately come to the conclusion that the summer has departed long ago. However, if we were to use the recent activities of Lincoln's suburban residents as our guideline, we might decide that the vacation season was still very much a part of what's happening in Lincoln.

In case you hadn't guessed, our news this morning has to do primarily with travel—more precisely just who has been going where.

Probably the most interesting autumn vacation we have heard about to date was one which took Skyline Terrace residents Mr. and Mrs. Walter Overturf away from Lincoln for 23 days of sightseeing and relaxation. Mr. and Mrs. Overturf (with 33 other people from all over the United States) departed on Saturday, Sept. 13 for London, England.

MISS SUSAN DANEKAS

Mr. and Mrs. Dale E. Danekas of Dorchester make announcement this morning of the engagement of their daughter, Susan Kay, to Charles Robert Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Brown of Crete.

An early spring wedding is planned.

Mr. Brown will be graduated in January from the Nebraska Vocational Technical School in Milford.

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Something in your column sure stirred up a hornet's nest in our family, and I'll bet it did the same in hundreds of others across the country. It was the letter from the married woman who said she had a strong "physical attraction" for her husband's brother, and if she didn't get him alone just once she would lose her mind.

Well, last evening my husband's brother and his wife came over for a friendly visit. The first thing the wife said was, "Did you read knowledge for nearly four months. Then came a printed card bearing a snapshot of the bridal couple with a commercially printed message, "WITH SINCERE APPRECIATION FOR YOUR THOUGHTFULNESS AND GOOD WISHES."

Has this age become so automated that a bride sends printed "appreciation" for her wedding gifts? If so, I would like to be informed, then I shall know what to do with future wedding invitations. Sign me.

DEAR QUO: The printed "thank you" barely covers the obligation, but is better than no acknowledgment at all. The most gracious "thank you" is written individually. The only exceptions are acknowledgments which number in the many hundreds or thousands. But Eleanor Roosevelt, the greatest lady of them all, somehow managed to acknowledge every gift with a personal note.

DEAR ABBY: I was always under the impression that the bride was supposed to acknowledge the wedding gifts with a personal note, mentioning the gift, etc.

DEAR ABBY: I was married, and since I received an invitation to her wedding I sent what I considered a most gracious gift—a month of my social security income.

There was no acknowledgement for nearly four months. Then came a printed card bearing a snapshot of the bridal couple with a commercially printed message, "WITH SINCERE APPRECIATION FOR YOUR THOUGHTFULNESS AND GOOD WISHES."

Here's the Answer

...deep rooted in God's Word --- The Book.

When Sir Walter Scott lay dying — he called for The Book. The servant who best knew his library hesitated and asked,

"Which Book?" Being the writer and reader of many books, Sir Walter said, "There is only one book for a dying man."

Is it not equally true for a living man?

What book compares in value to aid us in better living? Do you try to find out what is your highest duty? Do you want guidance? Do you cherish peace of mind? Do you seek inspiration?

Do you really want to know what life is for? This man holds The Source ---

The Answer --- The Divine Way.

Day by day let us enrich our minds, let us seek from the Bible, wisdom, and try to understand God's purpose for us in His World.

See you in church or Synagogue this week.

Turnovers Important In Football

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Turnovers is a term generally connected with basketball, but it also has a big meaning in football success or lack of it as well.

For instance, a year ago when Kansas was breezing along at 4-0, the Jayhawks had lost the ball to opponents on pass interceptions and fumbles only four times while getting the pigskin the same way 17 times in those first four games.

This season, with a 1-3 record, the Jayhawks have given the ball up 10 times via those two routes and obtained it an equal number of times.

Kansas has intercepted four passes and had seven of its own picked off while recovering six fumbles and losing three loose balls.

Nebraska, meanwhile, is behind 16-15 in turnovers. The Huskers' pass defense has come up with 10 interceptions while NU passers have been theft victims seven times.

The Huskers have lost nine fumbles and recovered five opponents' bobbles.

The veteran NU defensive backs have grabbed four errant tosses in two different games this season, against Texas A&M and Minnesota.

Nebraska was even in turnovers in the loss to Southern Cal, each team giving up the ball three times, and in the win over Texas A&M with each team turning the ball over to the other five times on interceptions and fumbles.

In the win over Minnesota, Nebraska gave the ball away four times and accepted five gifts from the Gophers. In the loss to Missouri, the Tigers got four gifts and the Huskers only two.

NU Favored, 3-0

Nebraska is the choice of all three football forecasters for the two major wire services.

Will Grimsley of Associated Press picks Nebraska by 30-18 while Herschell Nissen of AP and Milton Richman of United Press International tab the Huskers without forecasting a score.

Sounds Of The 60s

The Nebraska band will present "Sounds of the 60s" at halftime of today's Nebraska-Kansas contest.

Tunes to be presented will be Classical Gas, Spinning Wheel, I Say a Little Prayer, Going Out of My Head, and Acquarius.

Tiemann Bets His Bank On Today's KU Contest

Undaunted by the loss of the mythical Nebraska Navy and the village of Yutan, Nebraska, Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann has made another wager on the Nebraska football team.

This time Tiemann's bank is on the line.

The governor says he has bet Kansas Gov. Robert Docking that the Cornhuskers will defeat Kansas by at least 17 points in their game today.

Tiemann put his bank at Wausa against Docking's bank at Arkansas City, Kan. The Nebraska governor figures that's a good bet; he says his bank has assets of about $4.5 million while Docking's bank has about $6 million in assets.

Last year Tiemann lost the Nebraska Navy when Colorado defeated Nebraska, but he said he scuttled it in the Platte River to avoid delivery. This year, Nebraska's loss to Southern California cost Tiemann the village of Yutan.

Second-Half Bradshaw Blitz Buries Gresham Club, 56-6

By VIRGIL PARKER

Prep Sports Writer

Gresham — The expected showdown battle between top rated Bradshaw and Gresham here Friday night lasted only until halftime before the Bradshaw Bulldogs blew the contest wide open and sailed to a 56-6 triumph.

The winners were paced by the hard-running of halfbacks John Appuhn and Milt McLain. The two senior speedsters, who each tip the scales near the 190-pound mark, were more than the tiring Gresham defense could handle.

Appuhn started the scoring parade following the recovery together a 60-yard drive culminated by a 10-yard scoring pass from quarterback Dan McGovern to tight end Mick Barry with 3:20 remaining in the contest.

But the Thunderbolts' consolation touchdown only averted a shutout as the Iowa school ripped to a 30-0 halftime lead and led 38-0 at the three-quarter mark.

Heelan was paced by senior fullback Tom Beck who scored two touchdowns and ran for four conversions in taking 20 points to the scoreboard. Senior end Steve Schreiber received two touchdown passes from senior quarterback Tom Hettinger.

Senior halfback Jack Denney scored one touchdown and ran for one conversion in the game that saw only 15 penalty yards assessed — all against the hosts.

Although outscored and outgained by wide margins, Pius was ahead in one statistical category — punts. The 'Bolts punted five times for a 42-yard average while Heelan booted twice for 30 yards.

Heelan batted 50 percent on passes, hitting 8 of 16 for 149 yards while the Lincoln school completed 5 of 15 tosses for 77 yards. Both schools intercepted two passes.

Market Eases To Modest Loss

New York (P) — The stock market wound up a turbulent week by easing to a modest loss in moderately active trading Friday.

It had run up strong gains Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, but the inspiration stemming from hopes of substantial progress in Vietnam peace talks finally withered.

The market drifted lower from the start, with no new

Hitler's Regime Itself Set Fire To Reichstag

EVIDENCE HELPS TO CLEAR UP MYSTERY

The New York Times

Paris — Evidence was produced here Friday to the effect that Germany's Hitler regime itself set fire to the seat of parliament in Berlin 36 years ago in order to have a pretext for doing away with the vestiges of a parliamentary system.

The evidence helped to clarify a persistent major mystery about a crucial event in modern history which heralded and opened the way to the 12 disastrous years of unchecked powers for Adolf Hitler.

The story, as assembled by an inter-European committee of historians, disclosed a plot in which Nazi leaders of the highest echelon mobilized an elite unit which was in the know and another unit which was not.

Communists Fooled

The leaders misled a group of Communists to believe that one of their men was under Communist orders to set fire to the Reichstag where parliament was housed, then had him tried and executed. Finally, according to the story, the leaders executed without any trial all those protagonists who might have talked.

The sinister tale was disclosed here at a news conference by members of the historians' committee whose presidents are the outgoing German foreign minister and likely new chancellor, Willy Brandt, France's André Malraux and the chairman of the Luxembourg parliament, Pierre Greco.

The press conference shattered the Nazi version of the event which still has wide credence in Germany that a Dutch Communist, Marinus van der Lubbe, alone put fire to the Reichstag. Van der Lubbe, after a show trial, was sentenced to death and executed. The tribunal was unable, however, to establish the complicity of George Dimitrov, Bulgarian representative in Germany of the Communist International, whom it set free.

The conviction of Van der Lubbe nevertheless served as a signal for cracking down ruthlessly on the Communists and also on most other opposition.

At the news conference it was also disclosed that among surviving witnesses to the Reichstag fire many were afraid to this day to reveal themselves and testify.

From the testimony of some witnesses and from criminological investigations, the committee came up with the following version:

The plot was hatched by Heinrich Daluge, the Nazi interior ministry's chief of special operations.

SS Led To Basement

A week before the fire, a group of SS elite guards was led into the Reichstag's basement. Across the street was the residence of the parliament's speaker, Hermann Goering, who had evacuated it two weeks before. The two buildings were connected by an underground gallery. The group's assignment was to smear the basement with gunpowder and sulphur. They were told why.

A few days later, a group of Nazi stormtroopers (SA), was posted in the Reichstag basement, and told to guard against a Communist plot to set the building on fire.

Only hours before the fire, counter-orders went to the second group to let the arsonists do their work. The SA chief phoned Joseph Goebbels, the mayor of Berlin, for confirmation, who told him: "Let the joint burn down — it'll help us gain between 6 and 8 million new voters."

The United States halted sea reconnaissance missions off the Korean coast after the capture of the Pueblo, transferring those tasks to aerial flights, and curtailed sea missions in dangerous areas elsewhere in the world.

After the loss of the EC121, a converted Constellation equipped for intelligence monitoring, the United States announced it would continue such flights with armed protection by sea and air.

The Pentagon meanwhile announced that scheduled reductions in total U.S. troop strength have been increased from 196,000 to 220,000 men.

The cutbacks, to be effective by next July 1, will reduce the armed forces to a combined strength of 3,235,100 compared to 2,655,000 before the Vietnam buildup beginning in 1965.

The Pentagon also announced reductions totalling 6,600 from among its civilian employees. This would lower the civilian total from 1,235,000 as of last January to 1,166,400 by next July 1.

The Air Force and Army had previously announced civilian employment reductions of 13,000 each.

Finch's action will include a phased recall of foods containing the substance now on store shelves, it was learned.

The recall of cyclamate-containing substances will take place over a matter of weeks — as will the substitution of other sweeteners for cyclamates in the manufacturing process.

It is understood that scientists fail to be convinced that the substance causes cancer in man.

Finch decided on the strong step against the widely used sweetener found in diet drinks and foods after new laboratory evidence this week disclosed that cyclamates produced cancer in rats.

He commented after

Democratic members of the House Ways and Means Committee battered the administration views in two days of hearings on proposed welfare overhaul and Social Security benefit increases.

"We knew it would be rough up there but not quite that rough," said another department official. "We haven't engaged the committee on the principles behind our welfare reforms and we must do that next week if we're going to get any place at all."

President Nixon wants to replace the present aid-to-dependent-childrens program with a family-assistance plan benefiting the jobless and poor working families alike.

Some officials now are predicting a year's delay at least in enactment of a family-assistance plan.

Meet Star Carrier Clayton Avery

Clayton Avery of Beatrice proves that it is possible to maintain top grades at school, be an efficient businessman and still have time for a wide variety of sports and hobbies.

As a carrier salesman for The Lincoln Star, Clayton's early and accurate service has won him many friends and compliments besides swelling his savings account to a comfortable size.

At Beatrice Junior High School, Clayton carried a one grade average and is currently serving as vice president of his class.

In sports, he plays football, likes to bowl and has won second place in a state swim meet.

He also believes in growing his own salad. His small garden produced a nice crop of lettuce, tomatoes and onions.

Clayton's immediate goal is to increase his already sizable paper route. His long-range plans include a career in mathematics.

Pleased with their sons performance on the route, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Avery feel that other boys could also derive many benefits from this type of work.

Young men interested in becoming carrier salesmen for The Lincoln Star should contact the State Carrier Dept., The Lincoln Star, Lincoln, Neb. 68501.

Inspiring Words

by Bob Metcalf

Teilhard de Chardin: "Someday, after mastering the winds, the waves, the tides and gravity, we shall harness for God the energies of love, and then, for the second time in the history of the world, man will discover fire . . ." C. Northcote Parkinson in Mrs. Parkinson's Law: "Heat produced by pressure expands to fill the mind available, from which it can pass only to a cooler mind . . ." Winston Churchill: "Criticism may not be agreeable, but it is necessary. It fulfills the same function as pain in the human body: it calls attention to an unhealthy state of things . . ."
